An efficient, creative director who works meticulously. First class degree graduate in film and television production and postgraduate in documentary. As a recent graduate, I interned at companies such as CCTV in China and Huawei in the UK during my studies. My passion lies in storytelling and creating engaging moving images. Experience in running social media accounts and a keen sense of social media trends. Looking for the opportunity to use knowledge, know-how and creativity, as well as a keen eye for social media trends, to help your company connect with potential customers and create greater business value.
